

795 million
people worldwide
do not have enough
food to lead a healthy, active life.

If women farmers had the same access to resources as men, the number of hungry in the world could be reduced by up to 150 million.

66 million
primary school-age children attend classes hungry across the developing world

Hunger kills more people every year than AIDS, malaria and tuberculosis combined.

1 out of 6 children
-- roughly 100 million -- in developing countries is underweight.
